

Varied Activities Planned-Oceanside

Our 2014 Oceanside Conference is fast turning into a reunion of sorts for many who served there over the years. Webmaster Kate Stark reports considerable Facebook activity among former Pendleton-ites wanting to come back and rehash old sea-stories.

Conference Chair Bob Long and Program Chair Junior Rapley remind all comers that their registration fee includes a round-trip ticket to San Diego, hopefully to be used on either Tuesday or Wednesday. Long is encouraging prospective attendees to register as soon as possible.

Both Association and Foundation Presidents Bill Hauptfleisch and Don O'Neal are appealing to Board Members to try and attend so as to have a quorum for their respective board meetings.

Both Bob Long and Rap are working to assure a variety of activities, both on and off base. A live fire demonstration is being worked on among other things as this issue goes to press.

August 31 Dues Deadline

Postcard notification has been sent to members who pay their dues annually. If you are in doubt as to your dues status please contact CCHQ immediately.

Annual dues: $35 staff and above; $25 sergeants and below, are due each year by August 31. Payment can be made by credit card by going on our website www.usmceca.org or by check to CCHQ, 110 Fox Court Wildwood, FL 34785

Watch our website for complete conference information.

We are fortunate to have another good Association friend as a "buddy in the butts" for this conference. MSgt. Arsenio (Sonny) Cortez will be checking into Pendleton this month as I MEF PA Chief.

Members may remember when, as a gunnery sergeant and Info Chief at MCB Kaneohe, he accompanied the Executive Director to the Big Island of Hawaii for Jack Lewis' funeral several years ago and presented Jack's Colors to his widow.

Absentee Ballot Mailed

We have a contested election for Association President this year so absentee ballots have been mailed to all eligible members.

Both Manny Pacheco and Don Gee are vying for the presidency which will be decided at the Annual Business Meeting scheduled for September 11 at Oceanside, CA.

Members will also elect other officers and three directors, none of whom are being contested. Kate Stark, Chris Whiting and Rick Lavers will serve one more term as Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer, respectively.

Three new directors will be elected without opposition. They are Bob Mergle, Bob Long and Cal Openshaw. Openshaw had been named in 2012 to fill the unexpired term of Bill Hauptfleisch, when Bill was elected President.

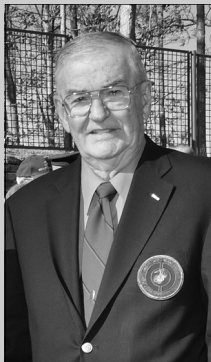

Only regular and associate members whose dues are current may vote in this election. Absentee ballots will be mailed back to CCHQ and remain sealed until opened by the elections committee at the Business Meeting.

Transition

James "Jim" Kyser

Life member and Lucas Chapter Treasurer Jim Kyser, Super Top as he was known in email parlance, died February 9 and was interred at the Quantico National Cemetery February 19 at the following services at the National Museum of the Marine Corps.

Jim was the "glue" that held together the Lucas Chapter in the Washington, DC, northern Virginia area until just before his death.

He was a past National President (1977-79) and winner of the Association's prestigious Donald L. Dickson Memorial Award in 1982.

BrigGen. Vincente "Ben" Blaz

Vicente T. "Ben" Blaz, 85, who survived a Japanese prison camp during World War II and later became a Marine Corps brigadier general and Guam's representative in Congress, died Jan. 8.

Promoted to brigadier general in 1977, Gen. Blaz became the first person from Guam and the first non-white Marine to reach the rank of general. At the time, he was director of information for the Marine Corps. After retiring from the military in 1980, Gen. Blaz returned to

Hauptfleisch's Notes

USMCCCA President Bill Hauptfleisch

Hard to believe that only a few months remain before we can all gather together again in sunny Southern California! We will all gather at the Holiday Inn-Marina, Oceanside, the week of 8 – 11 September.

This was all made possible by the hard work of Bob Long, President of our LA Chapter. Bob is also serving as the conference chair which in itself has helped our association a great deal in the planning and events this year.

He even has made things sweeter this year by coming up with loads of exciting things to see and do. Sea World and/or San Diego Zoo, San Diego Safari Park, Surfing (I'll pay to see Fred Lash on a board), Barnstorming Adventures out of Montgomery Field, and of course the Padres and Chargers. Thanks Bob! Your hard work will make this an exciting conference.

On the RAW'Crutin front, Jack has wrangled CC All-Star Dale Dye to be our honorary chair. For those of us who follow the film and TV, Dale had the vision to correct the portrayal of American fighting men and women in a more realistic and factual image. Thanks Dale!

Don't forget, your 2014 dues are due by September 30. A postcard reminder has been sent.

That said, we still need everyone to take up the challenge to get more members. We all need to help the "Tribal Elders" in this cause.

My personnel campaign involves the Marines I work with every day here in Quantico. Many of them who decide to leave our

This year 2014 represents a critical juncture in our history as an association and, by extension, as a Foundation. We have new leadership at the top of the communications command structure of the Corps, as well as a new office title. The Division of Public Affairs is now the Office of Marine Corps Communications.

With these changes comes a new approach towards the USMCCCA and the programs we administer on behalf of active duty Marines serving in the Public Affairs and Combat Camera occupational fields. Under budget pressures from DoD, for the time being we can no longer expect the Corps to fund conference attendance for award winners, though the spectrum of awards given in conjunction with HQMC's Thomas Jefferson program awards has expanded.

It is still our goal to run our awards program, with some tweaking, to recognize the excellent work done by today's active duty Marines.

What does this all mean? Likely a smaller conference in Oceanside with a smaller awards banquet, but one we'll be proud to host. That means also, that it is more important than ever that our members make a special effort to turn out. This is especially important for board members, as we have much serious business to discuss about the future of both the Foundation and the Association.

It also means that those of you who have been ardent supporters of our awards program need to confirm your continuing support by informing our Executive Director, Jack Paxton, that you're still on board and getting your contributions in to CC Headquarters.

While we've had a magnificent response to our Dedicated Members campaign, I must stress that we need your continued support for our Boosters campaign as well as the special Scholarship Campaign I initiated in my last column.

I am well aware your Foundation asks a lot of you financially. I am also aware of the generosity of our members when it comes to the crucial support you provide. For your generous support, I can simply say thanks. Without you, we couldn't do what we do the recognize the efforts of our active duty Marines in telling the American people about the sacrifices our Marines make on their behalf, nor could we provide support for the continuing education of our members and the families through our scholarship programs or continue the support we provide for the Wounded Marines Semper Fi Fund. I am humbled to lead a Foundation that has your trust and support. I know you'll continue to march.

Semper Fi, Don

Former Pendletonites: Sea Stories & Photos Wanted for Journal;

We're asking all of you former Camp Pendleton folks to dig back into your memory files.

This year's Journal will have a Camp Pendleton theme and we would like to run photos and any sea stories about your time there. Find your memories and send them to: kate@usmccca.org, or Kate Stark, 385 SW 254th St, Newberry, FL 32669.

Ford Ends Distinguished Leatherneck Career

Colonel Walter G. "Walt" Ford, USMC (Ret) will retire as Publisher/Executive Editor of Leatherneck magazine on June 30 after nearly 15 years at the Marine Corps Association & Foundation.

Following active-duty service of more than 30 years as an artillery officer, which included combat service in Vietnam, he initially was hired as editor of Leatherneck magazine in August 1999 and added the responsibilities of MCA&F publisher in 2007. Since Col Ford became editor, Leatherneck authors have earned the Marine Corps Heritage Foundation's prestigious Colonel Robert Debs Heintz Award for excellence in historical writing four times and the magazine has won a Printing Industries of Virginia printing excellence award.

Col Ford supported both the Combat Camera and Public Affairs military occupational specialties. For numerous years, he assisted in judging the Department of Defense's annual Thomas Jefferson Awards that recognize excellence in the Public Affairs field and also has been a judge for the Marine Corps Heritage Foundation's annual awards program.

Active in the United States Marine Corps Combat Correspondents Association and a director of its foundation, he continues to support the organization's photography and print and broadcast journalism awards program to recognize the superior achievements of Marines in those occupational fields. For all that he has contributed to the Public Affairs field and to the Marine Corps, Col Ford is the recipient of the USMCCCA's 2013 Donald L. Dickson Memorial Award and the 2006 BGen Robert L. Denig Sr. Memorial Distinguished Performance Award.

He has been more than a traditional editor in that he has kept the magazine relevant and timely during a time of flagging sales for printed media. Col Ford worked to keep the membership numbers stable and, with the magazine staffs, has assisted in bringing Leatherneck, and the Marine Corps Gazette—Professional Journal of the U.S. Marines, into the digital age of publishing with access to the magazines online, launching digital replica editions; shaping content for ease of access by laptop, tablet or Smartphone; and expanding into social media and delivering fresh content via Facebook, Twitter and YouTube under the MCA&F umbrella.

Above all of these laudable accomplishments, Col Ford understood the purpose of a service organization. He will be remembered most for his support to both members and non-members; active-duty, retired and Marine veterans; Marine families; and friends of Marines.

(Ed. Note: The following was printed in part from the June issue of Leatherneck. Speaking for all members of USMCCCA we wish our good friend Walt Ford fair winds and following seas. We do not say good by, however. JTP)

Gaddo, Jordan Honored By Heritage Foundation

Each year, the Marine Corps Heritage Foundation presents a series of awards to both Marines and civilian community members, recognizing exemplary work in advancing and preserving Marine Corps history. The awards were presented at the National Museum of the Marine Corps April 26.

The General Roy S. Geiger Award is given to the author of the best aviation article published during the 2013 calendar year. This year's honoree was Chief Warrant Officer 4 Randy Gaddo USMC (Ret), Beaufort, SC, for "Living Their History: VMFAT-501 Marines Document F-35B Flying and Maintenance Experiences."

Randy Gaddo

The Colonel Robert D. Heintz, Jr. Award is given for a distinguished example of feature writing by an individual dealing with U.S. Marine Corps history or Marine Corps life, giving prime consideration for high literary quality and originality. Life member Major Robert T. Jordan USMC (Ret), senior faculty member at DINFOS, was honored for his "Urgent Fury – Grenada 30 Years Later. A SQUAD LEADERS STORY."

While we say hail and farewell to Walt Ford, we also say welcome to Col. Mary Reinwald, who relieves Walt as Editor, Leatherneck Magazine.

She came into the Corps after graduating from Penn State with a political science degree. During her career, she served a number of tours on the East Coast and in Okinawa, paying her dues at Headquarters, U.S. Marine Corps in various billets, and with a tour in the Department of Defense. She commanded the Marine Corps Personnel Administration School at Camp Johnson, N.C.

Along the way, she earned the Legion of Merit with a gold star for a second award and a Defense Meritorious Service Medal and obtained an MA in strategic studies at the Marine Corps University.

Norm Hatch has received many deserved honors over the years but none thrilled him more than the recent letter from General Amos who recognized Norm's many contributions to the Marine Corps dating back to his days as a staff sergeant documenting Marine action on Tarawa and Iwo Jima.

We add our own best wishes our hopes for many more.

As much as we hate to have to spend the money to remind members of their dues, our experience with the recent mailing of postcard reminders tells us it is necessary. We have thought constant reminders in the newsletter, the Journal and on our website would do it but, from the telephone calls and emails, apparently a mailed reminder is necessary.

Because we have two persons running for Association President this year, you have (or will) received a mailed ballot if your dues are current and you are not an Affiliate member. Manny Pacheco and Don Gee are on the ballot. Choose one and return it to CCHQ ASAP.

There are three running for Association Director: Bob Mergle, Bob Long and Cal Openshaw. These three and all other officer positions are unopposed.

For all of you Facebook, Twitter, et al, fans, Kate Stark has promised to spell it all out in easy to understand—and use—terms during a session at the Conference.

beloved Corps often see me before the big day and ask about job opportunities.

I will show them our website which more than often lists various MOS related jobs. They will then say they did not know about the CC's. That is when I do my best recruiting pitch and tell them about our association.

The last two years I have also had the pleasure to go to DINFOS to hand out memberships to the both the enlisted and officer students. I will continue to do this when my term expires; Keith Oliver keeps me on a short leash!

Essentially I am saying, when you have the opportunity, Facebook, Together We Served, Holiday Events, Fraternal Organizations (American Legion, Elks, Moose, etc.) reach out to those who are eligible and encourage them to join.

As always I want to say thanks to those who are behind the scenes of our association. Keeping us up and running. I am privileged to serve as your President. Semper Fi, Bill
